

All you need to know about stopping unwanted calls

BT Call Protect user guide

What is BT Call Protect and how do I use it?

BT Call Protect helps you stop unwanted and nuisance calls. You can choose which calls you want to take and which ones to send to your junk voicemail. That means less time hanging up on people you don't want to hear from and more time catching up with the people you do.

All you have to do is call 1572 from your home phone and change your settings. And it's free to call.

How do I choose which calls are a nuisance?

You can manage your calls in three ways:

- BT blacklist: we've done the work with this one so you don't have to. We've identified a list of nuisance callers. Calls from these numbers are sent straight to your junk voicemail. Our blacklist will significantly cut the amount of unwanted calls you get. And we'll turn it on by default when you get BT Call Protect.
- Personal blacklist: you can add the last call you answered (from your home phone) or any other phone number at bt.com/btcallprotect to your own blacklist. So that any future calls from those numbers also go to your junk voicemail. This feature will be switched on too, but won't have any numbers until you add some.
- Individual call types: you can choose to send all calls from certain categories to your junk voicemail. The two call types are:
 - International numbers
 - Withheld numbers

You can manage your settings from your home phone (1572).

If you want to add the last answered call to your personal blacklist, select 1 and follow the instructions to confirm.

If you want to choose whether the BT or personal blacklist is on or off, go to manage your personal settings. You can also choose which individual call types you want to send to your junk voicemail there, too.

How does it work with voicemail services?

BT Call Protect with voicemail has two extra features. You can buy either of them online at bt.com/btcallprotect

- VIP: make sure all your important calls reach you. With VIP, they'll never be sent to your junk voicemail – it doesn't matter about your other settings.
- Do not disturb: if you don't want to be disturbed by callers at certain times of the day, you can use your do not disturb feature. When it's on, all your wanted calls will be sent to your personal voicemail. Unwanted calls will carry on going to your junk voicemail (1572).

And when you add a number to your VIP list you have the option to ignore do not disturb, so it still comes through.

Head to bt.com/btcallprotect to add a VIP go to manage your personal settings and follow the instructions to add a number to your VIP list.

You can also turn do not disturb on or off by from the main menu.

Offices worldwide

The services described in this publication are subject to availability and may be modified from time to time. Services and equipment are provided subject to British Telecommunications plc's respective standard conditions of contract. Nothing in this publication forms any part of any contract.

© British Telecommunications plc 2020. Registered office: 81 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7AJ. Registered in England No. 1800000.

December 2020